

PRESS RELEASE

“through a woman came forth...the better things” routes to the archival sources

The General State Archives of Greece (G.S.A.) within the framework of Athens 2018 World Book Capital organized by the City of Athens (for information please click here), in collaboration with the Municipality of Philothei – Psychiko, the General Secretariat for Gender Equality, the Bank of Greece, ERT and the Greek Directors Guild invite you to event:

“through a woman came forth... the better things” -routes to the archival sources

The speaker Maria Efthymiou, Associate Professor of the History and Archaeology Department of the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens as well as the rich collection of archival material will highlight through the archival sources the struggle for women’s emancipation as a basic foundation of a democratic society and as a factor for co-shaping Greek history. The event also includes a rendition of texts from the theatrical play “Angelica Nikli Solomou the Transparent”, by Pericles Moscholidakis, actor-director and Magda Katsipanou, actress.

Wednesday 6 March 2019 at 18.00 at the G.S.A. Central Service
A guided tour will be offered by the curators between 17.00 and 17.45

Registration for participation is necessary | First come first served

Duration of exhibition: 6-29 March 2019

G.S.A. Central Service, 61 Dafnis Str., Psychiko

Information: tel. 210-6782278 | org01@gak.gr | www.gak.gr